Appeals to Congressmen to Bring About Conference

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Secretary Hoover in a report to the senate Wednesday disclosed that he and Secretary Davis had sought to present recently suggestions which it had been hoped would lead to a settlement of the existing coal strike, but so far their efforts had been without result. The commerce secretary's statement, which was the first disclosure that the government had sought to intervene in the struggle between the miners and operators of union fields, was contained in a response to the resolution by Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, adopted by the senate several days ago, calling for information regarding the coal situation.

DIVER FINDS WATCH DROPPED IN RIVER

A gold watch valued at $50, belonging to John Eklund, proprietor of a soft drink saloon in Pearl street between Third and Fourth streets, was recovered from the bottom of Black river by diver Henry Hoffman Tuesday.

Mr. Eklund accidentally dropped the watch in the river while fishing, just outside the boom where Sawyer's bay. He marked the spot and returning to the city, engaged diver Hoffman. The diver donned his underwater suit and after a half hour's search along the river bottom, came up with the timepiece.

OUTLINE PLAN FOR BUILDING OF THE CITY

Scope of Activity of the Chamber of Commerce to be Widened Under New Movement

COMPREHENSIVE CAMPAIGN IS LAUNCHED BY THE COMMITTEE

Great Organization Drive to be Started in the Near Future

TODAY the managing committee of the Chamber of Commerce launched a movement having as its purpose the raising of the local organization to a plane equal to that of any other body of the same kind in this country. It was announced by Chairman C. R. Pieper. The committee has a plan whereby it hopes to widen the scope of activity in the Chamber of Commerce, increase its efficiency and give it the requisite working capital to enable it to fulfill its opportunity, for the growth of La Crosse.

After giving weeks of study to the details involved, the directors of the Chamber of Commerce have unanimously agreed that the best interests of the city will be served if a campaign is conducted to broaden the scope and place it on a permanent basis. The decision was reached after a series of conferences which have resulted in a thorough analysis of local conditions and problems.

The officers and directors of the La Crosse Chamber term this as the most extensive organization movement ever undertaken in this section, and that it has the success anticipated. La Crosse will have a civic and commercial body that will by its strength take the lead in the development of this section.

Broad Plan Outlined

The movement contemplates securing a membership representation of the business, the civic and industrial and agricultural interests of La Crosse and La Crosse county, and to equip it for administrative work in a way that will keep the membership interested throughout the year.

It was explained at this meeting that the details of the plan are not ready for publication at this time, but will be made public from day to day as fast as they develop. It has been known in the Chamber of Commerce circle for some time that the officers and directors were investigating commercial organizations in many of the cities, and their decision to strengthen the Chamber was due to this investigation. These inquiries confirmed their belief that remarkable progress has been made by commercial and civic organizations in recent years and that La Crosse was not doing herself justice by not having its forces organized adequately.

Must Pool Forces

"We all believe that La Crosse has as progressive and foresighted business men as any city in the country," said Chairman C. R. Pieper after the meeting, "but we have to admit that we have not been pooling this great force under definite leadership except on a few occasions. We ought to have an organization that will give a chance for a great many men to work along definite lines for community development. I believe that the only reason that La Crosse is not just as strong as well financed a Chamber as any city of its size in this country is because she has not gone ahead and made it that way. I think our citizens have generally realized that we are not supporting our Chamber of Commerce as it should be, and I have wondered how it has been able to accomplish so much with so little money and so few men giving their time to it.

"What has been lacking, I think, has been a general plan by which all of our citizens of La Crosse could get together on. This is just what we have in mind—a definite and comprehensive plan that will appeal to men and women of all lines of activity. As this plan is worked out in detail and made public, I believe that we shall see a spirit of co-operation here that many of us could not think possible. I have great faith in the people of La Crosse and vicinity, and I know how strong is their support of any movement in which they have confidence. We are not going to ask anybody to join in this movement until they are convinced that it is fundamentally right from a standpoint of building up our community. All we are going to ask is that the citizens consider the plan carefully after it is made public for the success of any city or community movement depends on a thorough understanding of what is proposed."

The managing committee to have supervision of the membership campaign and the reorganization is composed of: C. R. Pieper, chairman; J. J. Felber, A. J. Roberge, John C. Burns, H. O. Williams, D. W. MacWillie, B. C. Smith, Harry Burrows, William Torrance, John Mulder, C. S. Cone, T. H. Brindley, G. W. Bunge.

LA FOLLETTE HITS AT COURT DECISION IN CORONADO CASES

Ruling of Supreme Court Menace to Labor Declares Badger Senator

SIMILAR RULING IMPOSSIBLE IN BRITAIN HE ASSERTS

Attacks Authority of United States Supreme Court

WASHINGTON.—Declaring that the supreme court decision in the Coronado Coal case was the "most ominous in what it foreshadows for the future of labor in this country" Senator La Follette, republican, Wisconsin, Wednesday issued a statement today in which he criticized the court. The opinion, he stated, was "significant because of what the court says on questions not involved in the case rather than because of anything that is actually decided."

After reviewing the conditions which led up to and prevailed during the strike in the Arkansas coal mines in 1914, upon which the case was based, the Wisconsin senator declared, "a six-line decision was all that was required to dispose of the case on its merits, for the supreme court was reluctantly obliged to admit the fact as I have stated" the reference being to his assertion that "there is not and never was any case against the defendants in the federal court."

"The supreme court, however," Senator La Follette stated, "went out of its way through twenty-nine pages to berate the defendants and to characterize them as outlaws and murderers and the chief justice wound up his opinion by saying: 'The circumstances are such as to awake a regret that in our view of the federal jurisdiction, we cannot affirm the judgment.'"

The court, also went out of its way, the senator said, "to change the law as it has existed in the United States since the beginning of the government that unincorporated associations, such as are involved here could not be sued as an entity."

Reviewing what it stated was the authority of the court upon which it based that finding, Senator La Follette charged that "Chief Justice Taft neglected to state that as the result of the Taft-Vale case, the British parliament passed a statute which cut up that decision root and branch and made it impossible for an English court ever to render a similar decision."

"No doubt our supreme court feels secure behind the bulwark of a written constitution, the meaning of which that court has arrogated to itself the function of a finally determining," the senator concluded.

LEE PREDICTS A RAIL STRIKE BY JULY 15TH

No Question About Sentiment of the Men Declares President of Shop Crafts Workers

STRIKE BALLOTS GO OUT TODAY

MADE RETURNABLE JUNE 30TH

Nation Faces Possibility of Tie-up of Transportation Systems

TOLEDO, Ohio.—A strike of railroad employees will probably come about July 15, according to President F. R. Lee of the Federated Shop Crafts of the Wabash railroad system, who is presiding at the biennial convention of the federation being held here this week.

"I am satisfied that the shopmen will vote almost unanimously for a strike," he said Wednesday. "The matter has been laid before our resolutions committee and I feel sure they will return a resolution calling for a strike vote."

"There is no question about the sentiment of the men. They feel that they cannot afford a reduction in wages at this time."

Lee said the convention delegates here represented approximately 4,000 men of the Wabash system.

Strike Vote Sent Out

CHICAGO, Ill.—Strike ballots returnable June 30 went out Wednesday to railway employees affected by wage reductions ordered by the United Railway labor board.

The vote will be taken by individual unions whose 1,200,000 members are affected in orders either issued or pending.

Paralysis of the nation's railways July 1 loomed as a possibility as a result of the reductions which have already slashed $10,000,000 from the wages of the workers.

Meanwhile the board is preparing to hear disputes between shopcrafts employees and some of the roads over alleged unauthorized wage reductions and piece-work. B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor, who is leading the fight against the board's orders, was informed that the first of the hearings will be held Thursday. Twenty-one roads are cited for alleged unauthorized wage reductions for the hearings.

Hearings on the disputes are expected to run into several weeks.

It is indicated that no wage decision affecting telegraphers, the next class of railway labor to be taken up by the board, will come from the board for some time.

The split in the labor board was apparently widened by the latest wage reduction, the $60,000,000 slash in wages of shopcraft employees. The minority report by the three labor representatives on the board, severely condemning the majority which ordered the reductions, was still a topic of considerable discussion and provided ammunition for union men who attacked the order.

Vote on Three Questions

CINCINNATI, Ohio.—By The Associated Press.—A triple-volleyed strike ballot calling for a vote of the 400,000 railway shopmen of the country on three separate questions, was ordered by the executive council of the six shop craft unions here Wednesday. Instructions were sent by B. M. Jewell, head of the shop unions, to headquarters in Chicago, to expedite the printing and distribution of the ballots with all possible speed.

The questions on which the men will vote whether to quit work or not cover the following:

1.—Seven rules, including five wiping out time and one-half for overtime promulgated by the railroad labor board with which the shopmen are not satisfied.

2.—The "farming out" of shop work by the railroads to outside firms; the alleged arbitrary and unauthorized reduction of wages on the part of some roads.

3.—The wage cut of the labor board effective July 1.

CLARENCE J. WEBER IS A CANDIDATE FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Lawyer Formally Announces Candidacy for Office; Friends Urge Him to Enter Race

LEGAL EDUCATION OBTAINED AT GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY

Became Associated Year Ago With Twesme in Law Practice

ALTHOUGH it has been expected for some time that Clarence J. Weber would be a candidate for district attorney this year, formal announcement of his candidacy was not made until Wednesday. Friends have been urging him for some time to enter the race for this office.

Mr. Weber received his early education in the local grade and high schools. He was born in La Crosse thirty-one years ago, is married and has one child. He secured his legal education at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., and graduated from that institution in 1916. The same year he was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of Wisconsin and the United States District Court.

About a year ago he became associated with former Assemblyman A. T. Twesme of Galesville, under the firm name of Twesme and Weber with offices in the new Security Bank Building. This firm took over the law practice of the late James Thompson after his death last year. While engaged in the practice of law here for the past several years Mr. Weber has taken an active part in a number of important cases. Last February he was appointed divorce counsel for a Crosse county by Judge Higbee.

ITALIAN DIPLOMAT DEFENDS DISCUSSION OF TARIFF DUTIES

Subject Proper One for Debate by Foreign Ambassadors Declares Ricci

WASHINGTON, D. C.—By The Associated Press.—Taking notice of objections made in the senate by Senator Watson, republican, Indiana, to discussion by him of tariff and other legislation, Signor Ricci, the Italian ambassador, in a formal statement Wednesday declared tariff duties were an international problem and as such were a proper subject for discussion by a diplomatic agent of a foreign country.

The Italian ambassador defended his addresses in which he treated of the American immigration laws and declared that "when merchants and business men invite me to speak before their associations I endeavor to say things clearly and to demonstrate the practical results therefrom without ambiguity or circumlocutions not considered proper."

Intentions to interfere with American internal affairs was disclaimed by the ambassador in his statement, issuance of which in reply to statements made in congress, was regarded in diplomatic circles as a most unusual procedure.

DR. SUN BLOCKS WU'S PLAN FOR UNITED CHINA

President of Southern Republic Refuses to Give up Office at Demand of Military Dictator

EX-PRESIDENT INDICATES TERMS ON WHICH HE'LL HEAD REGIME

Declares Militarist System Must be Abolished to Put Nation on its Feet

PEKING.—By The Associated Press.—Developments of the last twenty-four hours indicated early Wednesday that China was in grave danger, with the North and South drifting toward civil war.

Wu Pei-fu's plan for Li Yuan Hung to resume the presidency of a centralized government in Peking was feared to have met opposition in the form of Sun Yat Sen, who declared he would refuse to relinquish the presidency of his South China republic at Canton.

Since the resignation of Hsu Chang as president, the Peking government—the only government which has been recognized by the foreign powers has been in the hands of a citizens' committee.

In the last ten days Wu several times has said that unless Sun resigned, the Chihli forces of Wu would invade the South China territory.

Reports yesterday also stated that Sun had persuaded many members of the old parliament, still in Canton, to rally around his standard. This, according to the Canton advices, was enlarging daily the scope of the opposing camps.

Li Issues Manifesto

TIENSIN, June 6.—By The Associated Press.—In a remarkable manifesto telegraphed throughout the country Wednesday denouncing scathing the military cliques that have reduced China to political impotence, Li Yuan Hung laid down the conditions under which he was willing to accede to the request that he assume the task of attempting to head a new centralized government in Peking. Li was president of China in 1917 when the pressure of militarists forced him out of office.

Referring to the numerous requests he had received to resume the presidency Li said these petitions had not left him unmoved. He then recounted what he termed his "sin against parliament" for giving in to the militarists and dissolving it in 1917. He spoke of the ceaseless fighting in China in the last decade, fearing it was not yet over. Whorin lay the root of all this strife, he answered that it could be found in the Tschun, or system of provincial military governors.

Abolish Militarism

He declared that China exalted all other nations in poverty—and in the size of its armies. Disbandment, he added, invariably had been "farical." The people "cry aloud for vengeance on the militarists," the Tschun system he termed "the negation of democracy—ruinous financially." Efforts hitherto made to abolish the Tschun had been futile; they merely emerged, under other names.

Either, he said, the Tschuns must sacrifice themselves or the nation itself would sacrifice them. There must be no delay.

Taking up the various arguments against immediate abolition of Tschuns he insisted that if the militarists were sincere in their desire to unite the nation it could be accomplished in ten days. While warning the Tschuns to see the sign of the times, he gave assurance that those of them worthy of consideration would receive liberal treatment from grateful countrymen.

Li declared himself reluctant to return to Peking, but said he would undertake the responsibility if all Tschuns and high inspecting commissioners would resign immediately, accompanying him to the capitol to confer on the welfare of China.

Nation Faces Extinction

"I am willing to sacrifice myself," he added, "but if this program be not adopted, the extinction of the nation is before our eyes."

It is my inclination to stay until death in Tiensin, my home. I have no more desire to see the people of the world. I am old.

"What ambition I have is only that I long to see reunion and would lay down my life to bring it about a day earlier."

"If because you cannot bear to part with your own power and privileges and continue to deceive yourself as to your own good intentions toward your

OFFER PREMIUM ON HOGS FROM CATTLE TESTED DISTRICT

Ten Cents Per Hundred Pounds Above Market Price Will be Paid

MADISON, Wis.—Packers are offering a premium payment on hogs from districts where cattle are certified by the state and federal government as having been tested for tuberculosis. C. P. Norgard, commissioner of agriculture, announced today. Farmers raising stock in the tested districts of Wisconsin will be paid 10 cents additional on each 100 pounds of their hogs, under the premium offered.

Mr. Norgard announced that for carloads of hogs coming from a farm where the herd of cattle is on the accredited list and the hogs are guaranteed as free from tuberculosis the same premium of 10 cents per hundred is offered.

"This offer shows what the packers consider the additional value of tuberculosis-free hogs and incidentally what they consider farmers are losing from tubercular hogs," the commissioner said. "The losses from tubercular hogs have been so great that packers have several times threatened to discriminate in price against hogs coming from dairy regions where tuberculosis is prevalent among cattle and transmitted to hogs. Approximately $1,500,000 is the annual loss to Wisconsin farmers from tubercular hogs consumed by federal inspectors at packing plants."

According to U. S. meat inspection reports the percentage of tubercular hogs appearing at packing plants in the United States increased from 2 per cent retained in 1905 to 13.4 per cent during the six months period from July 1, 1921. One and nine-tenths per cent of all cattle killed under the federal inspection were retained for tuberculosis.

"The main source of infection of hogs is the barn yards where tubercular cattle are kept and the by-products, whey, skimmed milk, and the butter milk coming from creameries and cheese factories. So serious is the latter source of infection that the recommendation of the Live Stock Sanitary board of the Wisconsin State Department of Agriculture, has been acted upon, and the legislature has passed a law to be administered by the Dairy and Food commission, requiring that either the milk from which incoming products are produced or the outgoing products themselves, or the outgoing by-products be pasteurized in the creamery or cheese factory."

"As a consequence of the work of the Live Stock Sanitary board of the State Department of Agriculture and the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry, Wisconsin has 1,500 accredited herds ready to take advantage of this additional price. Three counties that have had one area test and when the second test is given will be in position to benefit by this price. Six other counties are under way and will be once tested by the close of the summer."

"This additional price of ten cents per hundred should be an incentive for all farmers to get their herds on the accredited list and every county in the state to become a certified area tested county."

The HOME GARDEN

THE BACHELOR'S BUTTON

Development of the old fashioned bachelor's button, Centaurea cyanus, also known as the corn flower, into full double form has made it a very popular cut flower. It is probably the very easiest annual that can be grown. In fact it is almost weedy and will self-sow in great quantity, if allowed to seed.

The seedlings withstand freezing and are ready to keep right on going in the spring after a hard winter. It is an annual that can be planted at any season of the year. The full double forms are much finer than the old single varieties.

Finer in all respects but much more difficult to grow are the imperial sweet sultans, a close relative of the bachelor button, known as Centaurea imperialis. They are much larger than the bachelor button. They come in beautiful tones of white, rose, lavender and pale yellow.

Their season of bloom is comparatively short and succession plantings are necessary to keep up a supply. Their long keeping quality makes them a particularly valuable cut flower. They like rich soil, full sun and plenty of room to develop. They should not be set closer together than a foot, while eighteen inches is much better.

It is best to sow them where they are to grow. If they are to be transplanted they should be lifted very carefully with plenty of earth adhering to the roots.

SALE OF STOCK IN INDIANA DENIED TO THREE OIL FIRMS

Action in Wisconsin Awaits Hearing on Financial Condition of Companies

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The William Seyler company, the Elkuban and the M. T. C. Oil and Gas companies were Tuesday denied the right to sell stock in Indiana, by the Indiana Securities commission, according to word received here. The action of the commission comes while the Wisconsin Securities division of the railroad commission is waiting for a public hearing on the audit made on the financial condition of the two oil and gas companies.

The hearing is set for June 26 at Madison and 9,000 Milwaukee and Wisconsin stockholders in the two companies are waiting the result of the audit.

Many of the 9,000 are said to have invested their all in the companies on the advice of the Seyler company and on the word of "Seyler himself," as the man is known to many who have purchased shares through his unique stock selling campaigns.

Dividends were stopped last February when the audits of the companies were demanded by the securities division.

Why Castoria?

YEARS ago Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups were the remedies in common use for Infants and Children; Castor Oil so nauseating as to be almost impossible and the others all containing Opium in one form or another, but so disguised as to make them pleasant to the taste, yet really to stupefy the child and give the appearance of relief from pain.

It required years of research to find a purely vegetable combination that would take the place of these disagreeable, unpleasant and vicious remedies that from habit had become almost universal. This was the inception of, and the reason for, the introduction of Fletcher's Castoria, and for over 30 years it has proven its worth, received the praise of Physicians everywhere and become a household word among mothers.

A remedy ESPECIALLY prepared for Infants and Children and no mother would think of giving to her baby a remedy that she would use for herself, without consulting a physician.

SELF-PRAISE
Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth: a stranger, and not thine own lips.—Proverbs, 27: 2.

Warn Us First
NEW paint on street markings and some other signs point to the conclusion that there is shortly to be undertaken by the police department a campaign for more careful observance of the traffic ordinance as it pertains to parking. With this movement we are in hearty accord, and to it we offer the best assistance that we may be able to give. But we would suggest that if such a movement is undertaken it ought first to be preceded by a definite announcement of the department's intention, and a statement of the parking rules that will be enforced.

Perhaps most of the drivers of cars know what the rules are, but there are doubtless many who know them but vaguely, or not at all. Should a campaign of arrest and fining be undertaken without warning some violators innocent of any contempt or disregard for the law are quite likely to be mulcted. This would be legal, but hardly fair. The parking ordinance has been as much ignored by the police of late months as by the public, and many people have fallen into bad habits for which the department cannot altogether escape some share of responsibility. The fair thing would be for the police department first to publish a definite, easily-understood summary of just what is the right way to park, allowed parking time, etc., and announce that thereafter the rules will be enforced. Then anyone who is taken in violation will have no valid right to object, and probably the enforcement of the ordinance will be made vastly easier for the police.

It will be recalled that this spring's campaign for parking lights was launched without warning after the rule had been in abeyance as far as enforcement was concerned. It was right that the rule should be enforced. But when the police allow things to drift it is not right that they should take advantage of a situation in which they are not guilty to arrest and fine citizens. We offer as much space as the department requires to make plain the law and plans for its enforcement, if such a move is planned.

Your Greatest Power
SERGEANT ALVIN YORK, "greatest hero of the World War," again is in a run of good luck. A few months ago, it looked as if he would lose his farm through inability to meet payments on its $13,000 mortgage. A month in vaudeville would have brought York enough money to handle the mortgage. But he said, "I would far rather lose my farm, and go back to work upon it as a common day laborer, than to commercialize the fame which was only incidental to an act of Providence." Many have marveled at Sergeant York's modesty. The explanation is, he has faith in Divine Guidance, which carried the early pioneers through many a hard time.

York's corn crop last year was a bad one—low in bushels, low in dollars. Like millions of others, he was a victim of deflation of prices. This did not discourage York. He kept repeating: "Religious faith sustained me in my danger and removed my fear. And He will see me through." At times it seemed that there was no hope, no way out. But never did York's faith waver. Now the mortgage is gone, paid off by the Nashville Rotarians. Some will call it a windfall. Cynics will call it chance. The spiritually wise will call it the fruit of faith. Faith is the mightiest power we possess. It takes various forms, ranging from confidence in self or luck to belief in Divine Guidance. No human career can be carried through to success without faith, the mover of mountains. This is a universal belief, shared by all religions among people in all stages of barbarism or civilization, and it is the force behind all prayer. It is an unhappy individual who has no faith in creed, Creator, human nature and fellow-man. Without faith, the world would be a rotten one in which to live, and life would be drab and futile. Cultivate faith, to hasten arrival at your goal.

Have You Changed?
You meet an old friend—possibly on a trip back to the old home town—and find that he has "changed tremendously." Time has gotten in its work. His face has changed strikingly, though you still might be able to pick him out in a strange crowd. But the change that impresses you most is in his manner, his temperament, his character, his philosophy.

Thus the town drunkard may have become pious. The man who in the old days was the life of the party now is quiet and reflective. The bright schoolboy has matured into a mediocrity. The dunce has evolved into success. How do you explain all this? Some philosopher has said that nothing is eternal except change.

In physiology, you were taught that the human skin changes entirely every seven years—that a new skin is formed in that period, as old cells die and are replaced by new ones. There is an even more startling change in the real being, the inner self—character, temperament, spiritual nature and philosophy or intellect. You go back to former friends, pastimes and environments—and are disillusioned. The old-time glamour is gone. You ponder, "Things that used to appeal to me bore me now."

If you follow up this line of reasoning, you come to the rather uncanny decision that you are an entirely different being from what you were years ago.

Fortunate for us, that we have this constant change. It is what enables good to overcome evil. It leads failure into success. It permits us to develop our strength to overcome obstacles. The possibilities of the human being are unlimited. The inner self is as plastic as putty, forever changing. But there is no such thing as standing still. Every instant, we are either progressing or deteriorating—physically, mentally and spiritually.

Human nature DOES change.

Reincarnation
BOSTON is interested in a woman named Antinea, who claims she is the reincarnation of an ancient Egyptian queen. Antinea is a movie actress. While her reincarnation claim sounds as if a clever press agent lurks in the background, it is interesting that many millions of people believe they "lived before" on earth. Maybe you wonder, yourself, at times. It is a fascinating belief, a reaction from the universal desire to escape death or extinction. The reincarnationists usually are modest enough to admit that in previous existences they were Napoleon, Queen Elizabeth and similar personages. You will travel a long time before you find one of the faithful believing that in a previous existence he was a nobody.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY
There is a report current that the La Crosse lodges of the Masonic order will soon be granted the right to hold a consistory here. Wisconsin now has only one consistory and the establishment of one here would divide the state into two sections. A consistory meets twice a year and as the state has about 2,000 consistory degree members the meetings will doubtless attract hundreds of visitors. As soon as the Grand Lodge confirms the report, the La Crosse lodge will take steps to enlarge the Masonic Temple to meet the new needs of the institution.

At the twenty-third meeting of the Home for the Friendless association held June 4, Mrs. G. C. Hixon was elected president; Mrs. J. S. Medary, vice-president; Mrs. F. C. Suter, secretary; and Mrs. G. C. Van Steenwyk, treasurer. Twenty-six people are now being cared for in the home. The house is overcrowded and the board of managers is making plans to build a four-room addition for the older people.

Dr. J. L. Callahan has returned from Chicago where he took a post-graduate course in one of the hospitals.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of Branch 72 of the Catholic Knights of Wisconsin of St. Joseph's cathedral will be observed Sunday with high mass in the morning and a social in the evening.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY
Architects Schick and Roth have drawn plans for the Sparta Carnegie library which will be built in that city at a cost of $12,000.

Joseph Soukup, one of the old residents of the city, died yesterday afternoon at his home, 919 Hood street. Mr. Soukup was born in Stepanov, Bohemia, in 1851, but had lived in La Crosse for the last twenty-one years.

The thirty-sixth anniversary of the founding of the Presbyterian church in North La Crosse will be held in the North Presbyterian church next Sunday. Rev. W. D. Thomas will conduct the devotional services and Rev. H. H. Owen of Bangor will preach both morning and evening. The founder of the church on the north side was Rev. J. A. Smith, now of Toledo, Iowa. Since that time the church has had eight pastors, the most recent of whom is Rev. MacKenzie Ross.

Four La Crosse people are among the graduates at the University of Wisconsin this year. They are Blanche R. Ranum, James Watson, Otto Soell and Susan Swarthout.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY
T. J. Grove and Miss Mary Egan were married this morning at St. James church by Father Ambrose Murphy. Mr. Grove is a prosperous dry goods man on Gillette street.

Minneapolis is at present the mecca towards which a hundred prominent citizens of La Crosse are turning their steps. Minneapolis is the convention city of the National Republican League and delegates will nominate their man. The candidates are Harrison, Blaine, McKinley, Sherman, Allison, Rusk and Alger.

Rev. E. O. Vik left this morning to attend the Eastern District convention of the Lutheran church of the Synod at Menomonie, Wis. Louis Holm is lay delegate. Jens Lienloken and John Streeter will also attend.

Peter Peterson, the proprietor of the overall factory on George street, will soon move into Edward Nelson's building, a little south of his present location.

North siders are now to be posted on the weather. A set of weather flags arrived yesterday and was placed over the St. Cloud street engine house.

"Snow--Followed By Clearing"

BY ROSE MEREDITH

"Snow--followed by clearing--rising temperature--northwest gales," read Miss Amanda Harper to her nephew that March morning. Anthony looked out of the window and grunted. "My experience has been that snow is always followed by clearing--sidewalks!"

"Gracious sakes, Anthony, when I was young I didn't mind cleaning off sidewalks--keeps the blood in circulation, and anyway, the Ladies' Aid society's meeting down at Emma's, and you will have to clear off her walk, too."

"Of course, auntie, I'll get at it at once," said Anthony, and he stood by the window looking over the morning mail. Outside the world was wrapped in a white drift of snow which had fallen steadily for 12 hours. How many times he had shoveled the paths around the house and then the broad sidewalk in front of the house. Next to the house was a "delectable ground," for Anthony's old sweetheart lived there solitary, except for a couple of servants. Their break had come on the very eve of their wedding fifteen years ago, and the hurt was so deep that neither one had ever married. Anthony measured the long, lonely years by the winter snows that had fallen: in summer he rarely even glimpsed Rose Mary Gray, for she always spent the summer months with relatives at the seashore, whence she returned in October looking very brown and golden-bred, but her eyes were always sad.

"Fools," sharp-tongued Aunt Emmeline said, "the more gentle Amanda would murmur, as she saw them pass haughtily by each other. Rose Mary with the bluest inclinations, her fair head and Anthony with the stiff removal of his hat.

"If they would only look at each other just once," groaned Miss Amanda that March morning as she shot a glance over toward Rose Mary's big square white house which stood between the two big Harper houses on the main street. She was looking to see if old black Amos was clearing the snow from Rose Mary's walks, but the level stretch was unbroken. Something must have happened to Amos, for he was most faithful, and it had always happened that whenever Anthony reached the end of his own sidewalk, Rose Mary's would be cleared so he could proceed straight on to Aunt Emmeline's and clean that off. He might have hired the work done, but he never let the lady hear the exercise.

Anthony, booted and muffled for the work, went out with his snow shovel. As he shoveled the heavy whiteness and the birds were singing through his veins, old dreams came a-trooping. If he and Rose Mary had married, they would have been living in Rose Mary's house and their children might have been playing in this very snow! At this moment Anthony dug so vigorously into the snow that he caught the shovel on the pickets of the iron fence and split it badly. His first thought was to go back for the other shovel, then after he had gone a dozen paces he retraced his step and went on shoveling, and that moment of indecision changed his whole life.

Driven by the anguished memories and bitter remorse that he had not humbled himself to the ground to keep his beautiful love, the man worked furiously, half blinded by the mist before his eyes; for an hour he shoveled, forgetting that he had not crossed the stretch between his house and Rose Mary's.

Three women watched him breathlessly. Miss Amanda saw him when he retraced his steps on the cleared walk and fell to shoveling again. "He's crazy," she thinks he has passed Rose Mary's house--and he believes he's shoveling Emmeline's walk. "Oh, my!" Emmeline at the end of the block saw him finish clearing Rose Mary's path and come doggedly on to her house. "Land sakes! I never knew him to do that before--if the ladies hear about it the meeting will be lively!" she chuckled.

Rose Mary watched him with shining eyes, and a face kissed by the north wind into rosy blushes. "Ah, Tony--Tony, you must care a little!" she whispered as he went on toward his aunt's house.

At last he stopped. He thought he was getting cold, for never had he been so tired after shoveling off the two walks. He waved a greeting to Aunt Emmeline, and plodded on toward home. As he passed Rose Mary's gate a loved voice--how long since! he had heard it--called him--"Anthony--Tony, stop, please!"

He stood about. The watching aunts saw his eager, bewildered face beneath his lifted cap. "Thank you, Tony, for clearing my walk," said Rose Mary. She had spoken to him again after the bitter years!

"For clearing your walk?" he repeated. "That is very little--that I

"Wa-al," drawled the native reflectively. "I wouldn't exactly say that he'd go to hell for a nickel, but he'd fish around for one till he fell in."

FAMOUS COLORED DANCER DROWNS IN WINONA POOL

Maxie McCree Makes One Dive Into Mississippi and Fails to Come up

HEART TROUBLE BELIEVED RESPONSIBLE FOR DEATH

No Water Found in Lungs When Body is Recovered

Maxie McCree, 28 years old, member of the famous colored dancing team of Maxie and George, who appeared at the La Crosse theater Monday night in George White's "Scandals," met death in the waters of the Mississippi at the Winona bathing beach on Latsch island Tuesday.

Members of the company expressed the belief that McCree died of heart failure after striking the water. The fact that no water was found in his lungs was pointed to in support of that theory. McCree's team-mate in the dancing act, his cousin, George Brown, said that McCree had complained of heart trouble. Other members of the company made similar statements. McCree's home is in Chicago. He has a wife and one child, his cousin said.

Many members of the company were at the beach at the time of the mishap. Gerhardt McGill, a life-guard at the beach last season, who was at the island making repairs on the bathhouse said that he warned the visitors that the beach would not be opened until June 15 and that they would enter the water at their own risk.

According to members of the company, McCree donned his bathing suit and turned a series of hand-springs and somersaults on his way from the bathhouse down to the shore. Arriving at the edge of the water, he dove in. It was a pretty dive, witnesses said.

When only his hands appeared above the surface after the dive, members of the company standing on the float suspected that something was wrong and leaped in the water, they said. One man said that he grasped McCree's body and was almost pulled down by the colored boy's struggles. He lost his hold, he said, and McCree went under out of sight. Members of the company dove repeatedly in an effort to locate the body but were unsuccessful.

Several firemen, including Captain Arthur Rice, arrived at the island and in a few minutes had located the body by means of grab hooks. The body had lodged just under the edge of the float and was apparently held there by the current.

The firemen used first aid methods in an effort to resuscitate McCree but found no water in his lungs. Two physicians soon arrived and pronounced the youth dead. They indicated the probability that heart failure was the cause of death.

CONFESS THEFT OF WINE FROM SUMMER HOMES

Two Men Arrested at Winona Say they Robbed La Crosse Cottages at Trempealeau

After several hours' examination by Chief R. C. Riebau of Winona, William Harris, 23, of Centerville, Wis., and Edward Tracey, 22, of Winona, confessed their complicity in the theft of a quantity of elderberry wine from Peter Reinard, 62, caretaker of two La Crosse summer houses at Trempealeau bay on May 31, the chief announced Tuesday.

Officers Winkels and Bronk apprehended the two men in Winona Saturday after receiving a description of them from Reinard. Search for two other members of the booze raiding party continued Wednesday. Harris and Tracey were taken to Whitehall by Sheriff Ed Erickson and two deputies.

According to the confession received by Chief Riebau after questioning them for several hours, the pair claimed they didn't know the name of the fourth member of their party, although the name of the third man is in the hands of police.

They claimed the owner of the automobile met them in Winona Tuesday night and they went to Trempealeau bay. They asked for gasoline, and also obtained a gallon of wine, they told Chief Riebau.

The next night, they said, they returned to Reinard's cabin and took 15 returning of the wine. As they were returning the cork jarred loose from one of the kegs and part of the wine was lost. They hid the wine in a hay shed east of Marshland and later brought it to Winona, where they attempted to sell some.

They hid the wine under the Northwestern bridge near the city pumping station, and later dumped it in the river when they heard the police were searching for them.

Both men denied they had given Reinard any dope or that they had held him up with a gun, as he had stated. They said they gave him some moonshine.

Gentlemen:

No silk undergarment gets harder usage than a vest, so we had three flesh-colored silk vests, of sheer, medium and heavy quality, laundered in Lux the average number of times an undergarment is washed before it wears out.

The vests lost astonishingly little color—there was practically no fading. In fact, at the end of the washings, they were about as soft and lustrous as when new.

We attribute our success with Lux especially to its purity. A harsh soap or harsh soap flake is ruinous to silk. The mild Lux lather cleanses so quickly and with such gentleness that it is impossible for it to injure the garment. We are glad to recommend it to the women who wear our silk underwear.

Very truly yours,

LA CROSSE GARDENERS SEND STRAWBERRIES TO LOCAL MARKETS

Strawberries, the home-grown variety, are arriving on La Crosse markets in great, big, red, ripe juicy waves. The French island crop is especially fine this year. Berries as big as walnuts are being brought in daily. Market gardeners in the counties east and south of the city also are bringing in large shipments. Grocers and dealers have issued a warning to housewives not to delay canning and preserving strawberries too long. They say it is hard to keep berries this kind of weather—and there are no indications that the weather is going to be any milder.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

SURE THEY DO
BY BERTON BRALEY
Cynical bachelors may proclaim
They are safe from the tender passion
Quite untouched by the subtle flame
That glows and glows in a woman's drowsy fashion;
But by and by there will come along
Some girl to capture them, one and all!
For be their armor however strong,
Sooner or later they always fall!

And some are taken when blithe and young
And some are taken in middle age,
Bound and fettered and swiftly flung
Into the matrimonial cage.
Just when they boast of their freedom loudest
They're caught in the ancient thrall
The toughest bachelors and the proudest—
Sooner or later they always fall!

And if for the length of a life they're "free,"
Free to wander the world alone,
It isn't because they have wished to be,
For deep in their hearts, if you could be shown,
Is the cherished shrine of an old romance,
A memory sweet that they still recall!

Oh, love's the master—men have no
Sooner or later they always fall!

WOMEN INVITED TO HEAR BLAINE HERE SATURDAY

Public Will be Welcomed at Gathering in Salzer Church in the Evening

At a meeting held in the church parlors Tuesday afternoon, the Ladies' Aid society of the Salzer Memorial church made plans for the 6 o'clock dinner to be tendered Governor John J. Blaine by the Men's League Saturday.

The ladies who were called together by Mrs. George Merriam, president of the Ladies' Aid, named Mrs. William Thiel as chairman in complete charge of arrangements for the dinner.

"While the invitation to Governor Blaine was extended in the name of the Men's League," said Mrs. Merriam today, "we want it distinctly understood that the women of our organization are as much interested as the men in hearing the state's chief executive."

"We want, also, to have the women of La Crosse understand clearly that they are invited to attend the mass meeting to be held in the church auditorium at 8 o'clock and we earnestly urge that La Crosse women turn out to welcome the governor."

CHILE DELEGATES ASK U. S. MEDIATION IN TACNA DISPUTE

Propose Plebiscite in Disputed Territory With Uncle Sam as the Arbitrator

WEDNESDAY SESSION OF MEETING AT WASHINGTON IS DEADLOCKED

Peru Refuses Chile Suggestions for Plebiscite and Arbitration

WASHINGTON, D. C.—By The Associated Press.—Without accepting the Peruvian proposal to arbitrate the question of a plebiscite in Tacna-Arica, the Chilean delegation of the Chilean-Peruvian conference here, Wednesday presented a counter proposal under which the plebiscite would act as arbitrator of the plebiscite conditions.

The Peruvians are understood to have rejected this suggestion, insisting that the whole question of whether a plebiscite is to be held should be submitted to the arbitrator. As a result Wednesday's session of the conference ended in a situation which many diplomatic observers regarded as a virtual deadlock.

The Peruvian delegation, however, is understood to have indicated that the proposal for arbitration by the United States would be acceptable to it provided an agreement could be reached on the questions that are to be submitted for decision.

It was made known that a formal protocol covering the conference proceedings up to and including Wednesday's meeting would be prepared and signed by both delegations. This, in itself, was interpreted by some diplomats here as indicating that a decisive stage had been reached and that the two groups of delegates desired to lay their points of difference before the United States.

The Chilean reply, presented after nearly two weeks of deliberation by the Chilean foreign office, is understood to have been in the form of an acceptance of the third point only of the Peruvian plan. Under this portion of the Peruvian proposal the arbitrator would decide as to the conditions of a plebiscite. The Peruvians, however, insisted that the first point of their plan providing that the arbitrator first should decide upon the feasibility of a plebiscite was of such fundamental importance that no acceptance of other clauses of the formula would be adequate unless the principal clause itself also was accepted. It was not indicated after the meeting what the next step would be.

OSHKOSH NORMAL SCHOOL GRADUATES CLASS OF 1929

OSHKOSH, Wis.—A class of 169 young people received diplomas at the Oshkosh Normal school Wednesday morning at the annual commencement exercises. Most of the graduates plan to engage in teaching. Some will continue their studies at colleges. The principal speaker was Dr. Dwight B. Waldo of the Western State Normal school of Kalamazoo, Mich., one of the foremost educators of the country. He discussed the greatest educational need of the day, which, he said, was a trained teacher for every child.

BRINGING UP FATHER

REV. ROWLISON IS SPEAKER AT NORMAL COMMENCEMENT DAY

Addresses Graduating Classes and Friends on the Subject of "Sacred Callings"

LARGE CLASS RECEIVES DIPLOMAS WEDNESDAY

Hundred and Seventy-five Finnish School at this Time

"The greatest indictment of modern civilization is its treatment of the teaching profession," declared Rev. C. C. Rowlison, pastor of the First Congregational church in delivering the commencement address to 175 graduates of the Normal school Wednesday morning in the school auditorium.

The large auditorium of the school was filled with the relatives and friends of the graduates. A pleasing program of musical numbers was given, and following the address by Rev. Rowlison, and a song, "America the Beautiful," by the school, the diplomas were presented by President F. A. Cotton.

The subject of Mr. Rowlison's address was "Sacred Callings—How Shall We Answer Them?" In opening his talk he contrasted the immanent and evolutionary concept of life with the transcendent and static concept, saying that good and evil are within us. Evil is not evil because of it being bad in itself, but because it dominates something else that should be the dominant factor.

"Physical education is gaining so much recognition today," he said, "because it means mental control. It means that we are giving the soul a healthy and disciplined instrument."

Continuing, Mr. Rowlison sketched briefly the reasons advanced by persons for entering certain branches of work. Few who enter the teaching profession have had a divine call to teach, the speaker said, but those who have heard the call should devote their life to their work.

The modern tendency in life is to regard everything as secularized and little as sacred. Things that were held sacred in years passed are looked lightly upon now.

Much of the modern philosophy which we have is very pessimistic in its views. Optimism is not easy, but if optimism is not true, we must make it true. "The Christian religion is built upon faith, not fanaticism," said the speaker. "The will to believe is the essential thing. We are engaged in a creative evolution which shall drive such a moral purpose into the human heart that the race will be born again."

"Every man's life is a plan of God, and youth must conceive that there is something high and fine to be done. In training children, the teaching profession is the climax of human opportunity. Everyone should face the possibility of becoming a professional teacher."

The greatest indictment of modern civilization is its contempt for the teaching profession. You must teach the new generation a new recognition of these callings.

"If any group or age has had a sacred calling, the teachers of America today are that group. How are you professionally trained teachers going to answer that call? Is teaching a make-shift with you, or is it a man-sized, divinely indicated job for you?"

CIVILIANS LEAVING BELLEEK DISTRICT ON ULSTER BORDER

Countryside Deserted by Non-combatants as Result of Border Fighting

ENTRANCE TO VILLAGE DENIED TO THOSE WITHOUT PERMITS

Political Influences Taking Hand in Situation, is Belief

BELFAST.—By The Associated Press.—Nearly all the non-combatants have left the Belleek district in northwestern Fermanagh and the cattle are wandering aimlessly over the countryside. Only Irish republican army patrols from the fort are seen moving about.

Entrance to the village of Pettigo, ten miles to the northeast has been prohibited except to those having permits. Residents who fled during the fighting between the British and Sinn Feiners are allowed to return when identified, but must remain in the village.

Pettigo is practically deserted by civilians and a large force of military is in possession of the town.

While Protestant refugees are returning, the Catholics with few exceptions have departed. There is a growing belief that political influences are asserting themselves in the situation in view of the London conference and the protest over the Pettigo incident by Michael Collins, head of the southern government.

Ulster Patrol Shot

BELFAST.—A member of a patrol of Ulster "B" Special constables was shot dead at midnight near the Monaghan border.

An attack was made early in the day on a new constabulary post at Clady. Bombs were used during the skirmish in which the assailants were driven off.

A police patrol in Belfast discovered that a house in the Crumlin road district had been bombed during the night. In the wreckage was found an aged woman who had been badly wounded by splinters. She was taken to a hospital in a grave condition.

MORGAN TO OPEN HIS CAMPAIGN FOR GOVERNOR JULY 1

Attorney General Will be Occupied With Affairs of Department Rest of June

PLANS TO REACH ALL SECTIONS OF STATE IN SPEAKING TOUR

Received Biggest Majority in State History at 1920 Primary

MADISON, Wis.—The heavy work of his department is to occupy the attention of Attorney General William J. Morgan, unanimous choice of the Citizens' Republican State conference as its candidate for governor in the September primaries, during the remainder of June.

When the attorney general, who during the last election won the title of "Fighting Bill Morgan," through his single-handed campaigning against the Nonpartisan League, will start to carry his fight for election as governor to the people of the state, Attorney General Morgan in the primary elections of 1920 was nominated by the largest vote ever cast in a Republican primary. This support, he believes, came to him through his direct appeal to the people with whom he talked over issues of the election in a speaking tour that covered all of Wisconsin.

Again this year, as a candidate for governor, Mr. Morgan will go before the voters with his campaign for election. He plans to reach all sections of the state in a speaking tour that will bring him in touch with the varying elements of the people.

His record as attorney general which includes the institution of anti-trust actions involving over 200 corporations, and the successful settlement of a large proportion of this number, will be recounted, together with the other accomplishments of an administration that has resulted in the determination of a great number of important legal problems.

The attorney general will cooperate with the other candidates on the ticket endorsed by the Citizens' Republican state conference, in seeking election. Meetings are being held between the candidates to map out their plans and to prepare to get the campaign machinery in full motion.

BADGER NEWSPAPERMAN DEAD AT MANITOWOC

MANITOWOC, Wis.—Paul G. Schmidt, 77, veteran newspaperman of Wisconsin and civil war veteran, died in a local hospital here Tuesday after a short illness. Mr. Schmidt, up until the time of his illness was editor of the Manitowoc Post, a publication owned by former Lieut. Gov. Emil Baensch. The dead man was a brother to Carl Haw Schmidt, who for years was editor of a German newspaper in Madison. Mr. Schmidt was a member of the G. A. R. and was well-known throughout the state.

NORMA TALMADGE'S THOUSAND DOLLAR DRESS TO BE HERE

Through the courtesy of Miss Beulah Livingstone, director of publicity of the Norma and Constance Talmadge Film company of New York city, the Rivoli theater has been able to secure one of the old fashioned wedding dresses that Norma Talmadge wore in some of the scenes in "Smiling Through." This dress cost a thousand dollars alone.

Miss Norma Talmadge went on a diet and cut down her weight twelve pounds so that she could wear hoop skirts with their narrow, pinching waists. She is a modern girl of the picture and wears modern clothes. This dress was on display in the chain of Lord and Thomas' stores in the east. It came here direct from St. Louis and will be put on display in one of Doerflinger's windows.

DISCHARGED PHONE OPERATOR GETS A HEARING TUESDAY

Governor's Charges that He "Listened in" on Important Calls to be Probed

MADISON, Wis.—The basis of charges by Gov. J. J. Blaine that the night operator on the Wisconsin capitol switchboard Joseph J. Hopkins, has been "listening in" on important political conversation between the executive and his lieutenants, will be determined Thursday at a hearing before the civil service commission.

Hopkins, a second year law student at the University of Wisconsin, was discharged by John Morrissey, superintendent of public property two weeks ago, after formal charges had been presented to him by Ralph Immel, executive secretary. Demand for a hearing under the civil service law was made by Hopkins, when the action was made that he was giving political information, obtained through listening to conversations of Governor Blaine, to the opponents of the governor.

Harry Southoff, former private secretary to Governor Blaine, will represent Hopkins at the hearing. He will demand that the student be reinstated in his position from which he was removed, according to the attorney, without cause. Hopkins denies that he ever heard the governor talk over the telephone or that he has given any information to his political opponents.

Senator George B. Skoogmo, chairman of the Committee of Forty-Four, will be called to testify concerning the charges.

thousands of motorists will ask for Gargoyle Mobiloil. Today and every other day there are as many calls for Gargoyle Mobiloil as there are for any other three oils combined.

Today

hundreds of these motorists will be using Gargoyle Mobiloil for the first time. Convinced that the careless request "Give me a quart of oil" is responsible for at least 50% of all engine troubles, more and more automobile owners are turning to Gargoyle Mobiloil.

Today

this greater degree of engine efficiency can come into your own driving. Why not? Why not give yourself the benefit of standard, specialized Gargoyle Mobiloil instead of picking up "quarts of oil" here and there. Nine out of ten "quarts of oil" are mere gasoline by-products.

Today

as you drive along look for the Gargoyle Mobiloil sign. Consult the Chart for the correct grade for your car.

ILLINOIS NOT TO ENTER NATIONAL MEET AT CHICAGO

Limiting of Teams and Objection to Scoring System is Given as Reason

CHICAGO, Ill.—The University of Illinois, winners of the Western conference track and field games for the last three years will not be an entrant in the second annual national collegiate meet at Stagg field, June 16 and 17, according to Harry Gill, coach of the Illinois track team.

Rules limiting teams in the national meet to ten men and objections to the scoring system were advanced by Coach Gill as reasons for staying out of the meet.

The fact that thirteen members of the Illinois track team are seniors occupied with commencement festivities and the long period of training which the entire team has gone through were given as additional reasons by Illinois officials for remaining out.

Elimination of Illinois came as a distinct surprise and was regretted by followers of college sports because it means the absence of one of the expected features of the meet—a duel between Illinois and California. These two teams were regarded by most authorities as the strongest contenders for national championship.

VIROQUA DEFEATS ELROY SUNDAY IN SLUGFEST, 13 TO 10

Sherrin and L. Garin featured. Next Sunday the local team will play at Sparta, and on Sunday, June 18, will cross bats with the famous colored team, Gikerson's Union Giants on the local grounds.

F. A. Stuart of La Crosse, national organizer and promoter of billiard leagues and tournaments, has returned home after a campaign through Illinois, Indiana and West Virginia. In ninety-three pocket billiard contests he has played in the different cities he has visited, that at Evansport, Ind., where he won the championship. In his last series, consisting of fourteen 100 ball contests at Rochester, Minn., where the best score made against him was 80. Mr. Stuart has now completed plans for holding tournaments in the principal cities of Wisconsin this summer to determine the standard championship of the state.

In each city he will play fourteen contests, afternoon and night, against the best players. The four players that make the best scores against him will then meet each other in a three-day play off. The winner of the play off will be awarded a cash prize and the championship of his city. After he has made the rounds of the different cities, he will then bring the champions of the different cities together to decide the state championship.

"SMILIN' THROUGH" — RIVOLI
Norma Talmadge's latest First National starring vehicle, "Smilin' Through," is coming to the Riviera today for an engagement of four days.

Advance reports state that this is the most ambitious production yet made by Norma Talmadge. It is an adaptation of Allen Langdon Martin's stage hit of the same name, in which Jane Cowl appeared on the speaking stage.

Appearing opposite Miss Talmadge are two leading men, Wyndham Standing and Harrison Ford, and a splendid supporting cast, including Alec B. Francis, Glen Hunter, Grace Griswold, Miriam Battista and Eugene Lockhart.

Norma over a great emotional actress, is said to have taken advantage of the great dramatic opportunity presented her.

HOPE HAMPTON — MAJESTIC
Crowded houses are expected at the Majestic Theater beginning today for Hope Hampton in "Love's Penalty." The production is from an original story by John Gilbert, who has been associated with the direction of every one of Miss Hampton's pictures since her debut. It was written for her, with the result that it is the happiest medium which this beautiful young star has yet had.

Foxy Marmont and Virginia Valli are among the favorites of Miss Hampton's previous productions, and among the new faces are Jack O'Brien and Irma Harrison, both worthy of a place in such a distinguished cast.

his shows have been built must be clean and wholesome and attractive only to people of good taste. Mr. Stone has begun already to apply the same doctrine to his motion picture productions and "Billy Jim" is the second of a series in which Mr. Stone is to be starred in celluloid.

"I attribute much of my success," Mr. Stone declared recently, "to clean shows. I will not stand for anything that savors of smut. I believe the future of the screen, as well as the theatre, depends altogether on what the producers do to keep it clean."

STRAND TODAY

Here's a red hot tip! Eddie Hughes, the great sport cartoonist of the New York Evening Mail, said that the horse race in "Queen O' The Turf" at the Strand Theater was the greatest he'd seen since Man O' War ran rings around Sir Barton at Windsor. Drop around and see it yourself.

You'll get a bigger thrill out of this horse race than you've gotten at a race track in years. That big dash down the stretch will knock you right out of your seat.

They're all talking about "Queen O' The Turf." "It's a whale" said one man. "That big finish will knock 'em cuckoo." You'll see the biggest race track in the world if you step round to the strand and see "Queen O' the Turf."

FACULTY IN FAVOR OF SIMPLER SOCIAL AFFAIRS AT U. W.

Junior Prom May be Held in University Armory in Future Instead of in the Capitol

MADISON, Wis.—The junior promenade of the University of Wisconsin, this state's most pretentious social function, next year will probably step from its position on the brilliant stage of Wisconsin's $10,000,000 capitol building, into the humble surroundings of the University armory, as the result of faculty action taken Tuesday.

Professors decided that this affair, which calls for a full week of festivity before the grand display in the capitol, should be considered by the faculty student life and interests committee in an attempt to "reduce the number of expenses of social functions incidental and collateral to the promenade to the end that participation therein may be more general, less expensive and less fatiguing and demoralizing to the participants."

This attempt to bring all social affairs back to the University is regarded as the first move to check extravagance in social affairs at the institution. The lure of brilliantly staged dances has so attracted students that nearly $100,000 was spent by fraternities and sororities alone during the last year. S. H. Goodnight, dean of men informed the faculty.

Imparting Information

The little boy across the war came in to call on me when I was baking doughnuts. He informed me, his mother made doughnuts, too. After a silence he said: "She lets me eat only three when she bakes them." After another silence he added: "She didn't bake any this week yet." —Chicago American.

ARCADIA MAN IS SERIOUSLY ILL AS RESULT OF POISON

William Wolfe, aged about 60, is in a critical condition at his home in Arcadia as a result of taking poison Sunday night.

Whether Wolfe, who runs a buffet in the Arcadia Opera house, took the poison by accident or with the intention of committing suicide has not yet been learned.

When Mrs. Wolfe on Monday morning opened the door of the room in which her husband spent the night, she found that a table had been placed against the door, she said. An empty bottle of carbolic acid and a revolver are also said to have been found in the room.

INSURANCE BUILDING ASSESSMENT CUT IS UPHELD BY COURT

MADISON, Wis.—Assessment of the building owned by the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company at Milwaukee set at $1,700,000 by the circuit court of Milwaukee county, was sustained by the Wisconsin supreme court Wednesday Justice Crownhart dissenting. The assessors of Milwaukee had set the valuation at $2,750,000 for taxation purposes, which was reduced after litigation commenced by the company.

A Little Reminder
The victim of a cyclone was telling of his experiences. "Suddenly, without warning, he said, 'the house was nothing but a mass of wreckage, and fragments were flying in every direction. How I got out alive I don't know.'"

"My goodness!" little Mr. Meeker ejaculated as he jumped up. "That reminds me; I almost forgot about an errand my wife told me to do."—Ladies' Home Journal.

MINNESOTA OFFICIAL TO PROBE CAUSE OF FOREST, BRUSH FIRES

ST. PAUL, Minn.—A thorough investigation into the causes of the fires which have swept over more than 4,000 acres of brush and forest land in Northeastern Minnesota will be made. W. T. Cox, state forester, said Wednesday.

Most of the blazes which Wednesday were virtually under control are thought to have originated from fishermen's camp fires, Mr. Cox declared.

Rangers and settlers are still battling with the flames but only one, that on the Manitou river near Cramer, was causing anxiety. The Manitou fire had burned over an area of between 3,000 or 4,000 acres of burned over and virgin timber. Latest reports to Mr. Cox were to the effect that it was decreasing in severity, however.

HUSBANDS HAVE NO RIGHT TO ALIMONY RULES HIGH COURT

Reverses Decision Giving Husband Suit Money, Attorney's Fees and Maintenance

OLYMPIA, Wash.—Legally, alimony for a husband is an unheard of thing, according to the Washington supreme court.

The wife cannot be held liable for "temporary suit money," "temporary attorney's fees," and "temporary maintenance," like husbands when conditions are reversed, said the court. The supreme court even went to the length of declaring that under common law no husband has a right to alimony.

The supreme court Tuesday upset and set aside the decision of Superior

Judge Lindsley of Spokane county, which made Mrs. Agnes Jacobson liable for temporary suit money, temporary attorney's fees and temporary maintenance for her husband, John Jacobson.
